

The Manchester Urban Theology Forum

'Faith & Justice Join Hands'

Religions & Theology Department, University of Manchester

- Creating a shared space for critical reflection.
- Learning from each other about faith & life in our dynamic but contested city.
- Building bridges between different faith traditions and between the community & the University
- Fostering greater understanding and more effective action for the 'common good'.

The 'Manchester Urban Theology Forum' will combine action & reflection with analysis & debate. Keynote speakers will explore a specific issue that impacts on faith & life in Manchester – some speaking as activists, others as social scientists & others as theologians. Workshops will be interactive and will always conclude with 'ideas for action'.

Join us for our first Workshop – 'We Believe in Manchester'

On: Thursday 11th September 2014 from 1.00pm-3.00pm

At: Room W313, Samuel Alexander Building, University of Manchester

Do you want to know more about the new 'Manchester Urban Theology Forum'?

Get in touch with Chris Shannahan, the 'Urban Theology Forum Co-ordinator' to find out more by emailing him at chris.shannahan@manchester.ac.uk